LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Dr. Lester visited Salem Wednesday. Mrs. Vogle and daughter have returned home.

Chas. Osburn is in San Francisco. He started Tuesday. W. O. Nisley, the piano tuner, was up from Portland this week.

W. S. Tomlinson, of Wells, was in town Monday on business. Dick Scott came up from Milwaukee Saturday to visit his friends.

Christmas is coming. Send the absent friend the GAZETTE for a year. Jesse Irvine is in Yonahua this week organizing a lodge of Macabees.

Regular services at the Congregational church, morning and evening. All invited. Miss Ollie and J. L. Skipton have returned from a visit of several days at Salem.

M. G. Wilkins, now a Eugene lawyer, is a proud father. It was a girl, born November 15.

The ladies' coffee club gives a party at firemen's hall to-morrow evening. All firemen are invited.

Mr. Stettler has sold his meat market to R. Grant, who takes charge Dec. 1st. Mr. Stettler goes to Texas later.

Frank Sneagreen has purchased the house and two lots west of the box factory, and will fix up the place for a residence.

D. M. C. Gault, editor of the Hillsboro Independent, one of the best country weeklies in Oregon, spent Sunday in Corvallis.

Clifford Kerr is in Salem clerking for his brother-in-law, Frank Bowersox, and Ira Allen, who are in the grocery business there.

Geo. Robbison was in town again Wednesday and the boys were happy to see him. George is the most popular man on the road.

Championship football game, two society balls and Alba Heywood's performance is only part of the week's record for Corvallis.

Henry Veatch, of Cottage Grove, was in town yesterday and saw the football game. Mr. Veatch has a strong interest in the O. A. C.

The Register says that Eugene will probably have another daily paper soon. The new journal evidently has more spunk than discretion.

Corvallis business houses closed yesterday afternoon, enabling proprietors and employes to digest their turkey and witness the football game.

A steambath man, becoming too marked in his attentions to a married woman, was assaulted by the husband Saturday night and badly beaten.

The Juniors will give an entertainment at the Baptist church, Sunday evening at 7:30. You are cordially invited, and to all the services of the day.

Arthur Holgate, who has been in business in Portland for several years, has moved to Sprague, Wash., where he is engaged in the mercantile business.

President Gatch, of the O. A. C., and his wife, returned to Corvallis this morning. They witnessed the victory of the O. A. C. football team Saturday-Guard.

Mrs. E. P. Grefus and little daughters, Norma and Adria, of Corvallis, are visiting in this city with their friends, Rev. P. R. Burnett and family.—Eugene Register.

President Gatch and wife, Profs. Cordley, Kent, Johnson and Edwards, Mrs. Denlinger and Postmaster Root, Johnson were among the spectators of the game at Eugene.

Men and boys can suit themselves in wearing apparel at the store of F. L. Miller. Solid worth in quality and at prices as low as is consistent with good business principles.

Wallace Harrison, of Yamhill county, member of last year's graduating class at the college, was in town this week visiting old school friends. Peggy is always a welcome visitor.

Yesterday, at Salem, occurred the marriage of Miss Carl Hitchens and Mr. Will Staiger. Miss Hitchens was a resident of Corvallis for several years, whose she still has a host of warm friends.

Claude Gatch and family, of Salem, spent Thanksgiving day with his parents, President Gatch and wife. Mr. Gatch is a prominent Salem business man, and was formerly mayor of the capital city.

The Nash-Elliott musical recital Friday evening attracted a large audience and the guests were delightfully entertained. The numbers were faultlessly executed. Miss Ellis has a sweet and expressive voice that betrays high cultivation and Miss Nash's playing was a revelation to even her friends. Both rank high as musicians.

Mrs. Susan Gwilt, of Portland, department president of the W. R. C., visited the Corvallis corps Friday afternoon and was well received. While in the city she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. Chipman.

First quarterly meeting for Corvallis and Peoria will be held in Corvallis next Saturday and Sunday at old college chapel. Preaching Sunday morning and evening by Rev. H. S. Shangle, president.

The Tribune, Portland, as a morning paper, surpasses the Oregonian in local and state news, and seems to have very good telegraphic service. The proof reading could be criticised, but that is a fault easily corrected.

Judge Wolverton and wife came up from Salem Wednesday evening as far as Independence. They ate Thanksgiving day with the judge's parents, who celebrated at that time their golden anniversary of their marriage.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will hold a sale of fancy articles at the residence of Mrs. Martha Hoffman next door to the Congregational church on Saturday afternoon, December 4. Everybody cordially invited.

Ray McAllister, of Heppner, is in the city visiting his brother, "Pap" Hayseed. He has taken a decided fancy to the college and the town and contemplates entering school next year. He greatly resembles his brother, "Pap."

Among former O. A. C. students who watched the football game here yesterday were, Ed. Emmett, Prof. Chas. Archer of Yale, Marion county; Steven Archibald, Tangent; Ralph Terrell, Salem; Miss Laura Whitman, Buena Vista.

Subject at Methodist Episcopal church, Lord's day morning: "Three wise admissions of a most reasonable person." Evening: "A profound question or a knotty problem." This will be an important and interesting discussion.

The Corvallis correspondent to the Oregonian places the aggregate value of deatons products shipped abroad this year at $625,615. The principal item is wheat—651,000 bushels. The total value of the state's produce is nearly $30,000,000.

The Catholic ladies of Portland are holding a fair, and among other features is voting for the most popular Portland policeman. Capt. Barclay, a former Corvallisite, and who married Miss Nida Ferguson, was second on the roll Wednesday.

The GAZETTE acknowledges many complimentary remarks about its excursion car to Eugene Saturday. It was not a money making proposition. The paper wished simply to accommodate the players and others who wished to witness the game, giving any profits to the team.

County Clerk Watters had a group picture of Corvallis attorneys taken last Tuesday in the court room. The likeness of the present local attorneys will appear from the wall of the county court room for years to come. It was a graceful idea.

The prospective football game between the Young America boys and H. & L. company is creating a deal of interest among the fire ladders. It is thought the engine company will have the advantage on weight and strength, while the Hook & Ladders have the most experienced players.

The military ball given by the O. A. C. cadets last night was a huge success. The gallant cadets in their handsome uniforms, their guests in evening dress and the charming gowns of the ladies, supplemented the effect of bright lights and decorations and made the scene a brilliant one.

J. N. and Earl Brandberry returned from San Francisco Tuesday, the surgeons there being unable to give the former relief. Earl says he saw many Corvallisites in the Golden Gate city. An "Oregon" band is being organized there, including Mart Spangler, Gene Simpson and Don Ray.

The turkey supply for Thanksgiving was plentiful. The birds, too, are unusually prosperous in appearance. Gene Dodds, of Wells, who buys for the market, says that the turkeys he handled this season are heavier, as a rule, than those of previous years. Forty-eight he bought of Tomlinson averaged 16 pounds and Carter's turkeys averaged over 16 pounds.

Arrangements are being made for a game between the football teams of the Oregon Agricultural College and the Washington university at Seattle. Both teams are anxious to come together and it is quite likely that the college champions of the two states will meet within two weeks, and a pretty game will be witnessed by the fortunate spectators.

The city council held a meeting Saturday night. A complaint was filed preferring charges against Chief of Police Wells. An impeachment trial will take place Monday, Dec. 6th, Mayor Woodward acting as judge and the councilmen jurors. City Attorney Wilson will conduct the prosecution, and Yates & Yates are to defend the chief. A petition against the removal of Wells was filed Saturday night.

The postponed Heritage-Pleek concert was given at the M. E. church Monday night. On the first night the pianist objected to the piano and refused to play, but his grimaces and peculiar attitudes were as enjoyable, doubtless, to the audience as the music would have been. Monday evening he failed to appear, but the vacancy was acceptably filled by Carl Denton, violinist, and Miss Rollin, contralto. The concert was a pleasing one.

Union Thanksgiving services were held in the Methodist church yesterday morning. Rev. Feuton, pastor of the M. E. church, south, preached a powerful sermon, reciting the mercies that have been shown the American people. The music and other features were in keeping with the day and the whole services beautiful and interesting. At the Episcopal church services were held. The new chorus of 16 boys assisted in the music and the effect was pleasing.

To-day, Mr. S. G. Irvin, president of the summer educational association, fled for record a deed from Emma B. Thompson, in behalf of the R. M. Thompson estate, conveying property worth $1,000 to the association. Miss Thompson was in attendance at the association meeting last summer, and was much pleased with the work accomplished, and predicts a bright future for the institution.

Lincoln Leader. The deed was a gift to the association. Miss Thompson is a resident of Corvallis and a good printer.

FARMERS VICTORIOUS.

They Defeat the Dudes 26 to 8.—The O. A. C. Boys Play a Fine Game of Football.

A large crowd gathered in and around the telephone office Saturday, impatiently waiting reports from the football game at Eugene. When it was announced that at the end of the first half the score stood 10 to 4 in favor of the orange, everybody shouted. Then came the report, "game ended, O. A. C. 26, U. of O. 8." A roar went up from hundreds of happy people and the college students had an impromptu parade.

THE GAME. Game was called at 3:40. The O. A. C. boys lining up as follows: Center, McAllister; guards, Bodine and Elgin; tackles, Thurston and Walters; ends, Stimpson and McBridge; halves, Holgate and Scroggins; fullback, Gault. Percy Young of Albany refereed the game and S. H. McAllister, of Eugene, was umpire. Their decisions were manifestly fair and correct and there was no kicking by either team. Not was the enjoyment of spectators marred by unseemly wrangling or rough playing.

The university team won the kick-off, putting the ball well down toward goal. The farmers on the line-up for a scrimmage immediately demonstrated their superiority and made gains by end runs and line bucking at will. They pushed the ball rapidly down the line, and after only eight minutes playing, secured a touchdown. Gault kicked goal. Score, O. A. C. 6, Eugene 0.

Then the farmers repeated the process and by excellent playing made another touchdown in ten minutes. Goal, failed. Score, O. A. C. 10, Eugene 0.

Up to this time the prospects for an interesting game were very poor. The farmers were having a too easy time. But on the next lineup, Eugene getting the ball, Kuykendall made a fine end run for 35 yards. This gave the university team courage and by good hard playing gradually pushed the ball down the field, making a touchdown, but failed on goal. Score, O. A. C. 10, Eugene 8.

SECOND HALF. The Eugene boys kept up their spirit, but the farmers put a little extra vim in their playing and had their opponents well in rain all the time. All the O. A. C. lads played like steam engines and their team work was excellent. They made three touchdowns in succession by magnificent and often time brilliant work. Holgate made a splendid run of 75 yards and Gault poked the Dudes' line repeatedly for gains. Darkness began to interfere with the players in the middle of the second half, and after the third touchdown for the farmers in the half both sides resorted to kicking out of bounds. Eugene finally secured the ball on a kick and Kuykendall ran down the field for a touchdown, aided by the darkness. Kick into place failed. On the kickoff Corvallis got the ball and worked it steadily down the field and had it, within a short distance of the opponents goal when time was called on account of darkness. There was 17 minutes more of play, but as the fault would doubtless be only an increase of the farmers' lead both sides readily consented to a sit.

The day was splendid and the grounds, notwithstanding the heavy storms of the days before, were in an ideal condition. The Corvallisites were very quiet, after their victory and did not ruffle the feelings of their vanquished opponents by accessibly crowing.

As previously stated, the farmers put up a magnificent game, highly complimentary to themselves and to Mr. Bloss, their excellent coach. Pap Hayseed was in every play. He was always out in the interference and, for center, made some surprising tackles. His whole heart and head were in the work, and both organs are above the ordinary. Bodine, though suffering from an accidental knife wound in his leg, seemed to be in perfect form and was unmovable except when he wished to move. Bodie is an old standby and it is very gratifying to their friends that the final season of Pap and Bodie should be so glorious. Elgin would be a good man in any position. While a new player, he makes up in shrewdness and "catchiness," what he may lack in experience. Walters was pitted against a strong man and a fine player, and it is not fair praise, but strong commendation, when it is said that Walters held his own. His ankle gave him some pain but he buckled into business from beginning to end. Thurston exhibited his vast superiority over his last year's playing. He tackled finely and ran strongly when he had the ball. Gyp is one of the best men on the team when all are good. Stimpson, on end, was active and earnest. He has grit, willingness and endurance. It would be difficult to find a better end than McBride. He is not very large, but he is strong and quick and has an "eye like the eagle." Arch Kruse showed great improvement at quarter. He is a new player, but his work Saturday was "immense." He is reliable, a very necessary quality in the quarter back. Scroggins' work at half, while very good in the main, was hardly up to his usual grade. The statement is hardly a reflection, as those who have seen him play before will understand. He missed one or two opportunities, but this may not have been his fault. Altogether, he was a strong man and a good player. Dox Holgate played better than usual. He was good on defensive and offensive and seemed to be sure for gains when he had the ball. He runs strong and rallies men upon pushing men out of the way than upon dodging. His 75-yard run, protected by Pap Hayseed and Gault, was one of the leading features of the game. Gault has been said to be the best full back the O. A. C. has ever had. If anything be added to this it should be, "by far the best." He goes through the line like a cannon ball and tackles low and hard. His punts are always space covers and his whole playing is characterized by intelligent effort, skill and endurance. Pendleton played half in the latter part of the second half, but did not have much opportunity to exhibit the good work that he usually shows. He, however, in the short time on the field, proved his abilities as a ground game.

The O. A. C. took up some fine men as subs. Burnett, Osburn, Neel, Scott, Fullerton and Holmes, are all capable footballists.

THANKSGIVING'S GAME.

The Farmer's Football Superiority again Demonstrated. McMinnville Failed to Score.

Forest Grove, at a late hour defeating the Thanksgiving game to the O. A. C., the team from McMinnville college kindly filled the engagement. The visitors had hitherto been undefeated.

Yesterday was a beautiful day and an immense crowd pressed against the ropes when time was called at 3:00 p. m. The Corvallis team lined up as at Eugene, except that Pendleton replaced Holgate at half. Against Pap Hayseed was Knapp, who played center for Albany in the first match game Pap ever played.

Fred Nelson, of McMinnville, referee, and Brady Burnett umpire, were the officials. The farmers had the kick off and Gault sent a pretty punt down the field. McMinnville bucked the line for gains, but soon lost the ball on a fumble. Pendleton made a good gain for the O. A. C. and then Scroggins made a 35 yard run for a touchdown. Goal, failed. On the next kick off Scroggins made a splendid run of 85 yards for a touchdown. Gault kicked goal. Score, 10 to 0 in ten minutes time. It took the farmers eight minutes to make another touchdown, goal being kicked. Corvallis in all made five touchdowns in the first half, and at the end of the first half the score stood 28 to 0 in favor of O. A. C.

The second half was similar to the first. The visitors could not stop the rushes of the farmers, who continued to make touchdowns. The home team piled up 26 points in the second half, and the game ended, O. A. C. 54, McMinnville 0.

The 80 yard run of Scroggins, making a touchdown from the kick-off was extraordinary and speaks volumes for the runner and for the interference.

While the visitors were out-classed in every point, the exhibited considerable natural ability and on the offensive put up a very creditable game.

Had their defensive work been as good, the score would have been much nearer even. Knapp is a fine punter and the endmen clever tacklers. Next year McMinnville college will have a formidable team in the arena.

It was a clever game and without serious accidents. The visitors to be commended as thorough gentlemen.

Washington University, Seattle will doubtless play the farmers at Corvallis. Virgil Watters and Robt. Johnson have guaranteed any deficiency in the expense of bringing the visitors here. The game will draw an enormous crowd, being the championship game of two states.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

Royal makes the best pastries, cakes, biscuits and delicacies.

Forest Grove forfeited the game with the Agricultural College in the intercollegiate championship series, giving the O. A. C. the pan aut. Monmouth previously defaulted to Forest Grove.

The farmers would prefer winning the championship by actual contests throughout, but no one can deny that the O. A. C. team is easily the best college eleven in the state. It is superior in material and in team work to any team any Oregon college has ever had.

The farmers hold the field day championship, having made as many points at Salem, last June, as all the other colleges combined.

The second half was similar to the first. The visitors could not stop the rushes of the farmers, who continued to make touchdowns. The home team piled up 26 points in the second half, and the game ended, O. A. C. 54, McMinnville 0.
